CALGARY BUCKS NATIONAL TREND

Double digit year-over-year sales growth demonstrates differences between city and national trends

Calgary, August 1, 2012 – Calgary continues to buck national housing sale trends. The 1,936 residential units sold in July represent a 21.3-per-cent increase over 2011.

"Recent mortgage rule changes prompted much discussion of a national housing correction. While the two largest cities (Vancouver and Toronto) have started to witness declines in home sales activity, Calgary continues to record improving sales and prices," says Ann-Marie Lurie, Chief Economist for CREB.

"The gains were supported from the economic growth in the region," Lurie says. "Last year, Alberta led the country in economic growth and – with Calgary being the energy capital of the country – the city has benefited from growth in full-time employment, migration and overall improved confidence."

Year-to-date City of Calgary sales totaled 13,684, a 16.5-per-cent increase over the same time in 2011. Other sectors within the city limits have also recorded significant growth. The single-family market recorded the largest gains at 18.9 per cent, while the condominium apartment posted a 9.4-per-cent rise year-to-date.

"The housing growth positions us with sales activity that is more consistent with long-term trends, of which we significantly fell short of since the recession," says Bob Jablonski, President of CREB. "Consumers have been cautious of the housing market coming out of the recession, but housing sales have improved considerably, driven by home prices that are still below peak, favourable interest rates and bullish forecasts on the local economy."

Consumers have delayed adding listings to the market, and, as a result, there are 7.5 per cent fewer single family listings and 3.1 per cent fewer condominium apartment listings, compared to this July 2011. July sales activity showed seasonal slowing over June's level, providing some relief on the balance between supply and demand. Citywide months of supply trended upwards towards 3 months.

With tighter mortgage rules and tighter supply, consumers planning on "moving up" may be forced to reevaluate what is within their budget. This may cause some homeowners to delay listing their homes, contributing to the diminished number of listings. However, if supply levels remain low, this will encourage consumers to turn toward the new home market.

Single family inventory levels were 3,646 units in June, nearly 20-per-cent lower than supply levels recorded in 2011.

CALGARY SALES COMPARISON

CALGARY RESIDENTIAL PRICE

Lower inventory, combined with increased sales, has resulted in stronger-than-anticipated price gains. The single family benchmark price reached $432,400 in July, a 7.8-per-cent increase over 2011, but on average only 5 per cent higher on a year-to-date basis. The increase in price has narrowed the variance from the peak of the market, but a 4-per-cent price gap remains.

Both the condominium apartment and townhouse market recorded year-over-year benchmark price gains of 2 per cent in July, for respective prices of $247,600 and $277,400.

"While the economic risks continue to weigh on the market, many consumers continue to see employment opportunities in the city," says Lurie. "They have a better sense of job security and are taking advantage of a stable housing market."

President's Notebook

by John McDermid

Throughout this now waning summer, CHCA and the Rotary Park Planning Committee continued to explore avenues by which to resolve the one outstanding issue is respect of developments in Rotary Park late last year. On August 3, CHCA wrote to Alderman Druh Farrell in support of and in follow up to David Finch's letter from the Rotary Park Planning Committee (RPPC), dated April 16th, which provided a snapshot of the impressive progress made in addressing issues arising from work done in Rotary Park late last year. Activity subsequent to mid-April has been significant and everyone is anxious that implementation of the identified solutions occur as soon as possible. The following is substantially the content of our August 3 letter for presentation here in the newsletter:

Without repeating the individual heads of activity as set out by the RPPC, we fully endorse, on behalf of the Crescent Heights Community Association, most of the points covered there, which may be summarized as the "Pathways Plan":

- The restoration of the "Samis Road Trail" from Centre Street up into the park is among the most important gains from our recent engagement process; and
- enhancement and refinement of the new hard surface pathways and the removal of two diagonal pathways through the flex-use playfield area are important gains for preserving and enhancing access to the park while restoring an intact playfield area.

The proposed "dynamic" fence for the family area is among the more exciting aspects of what has become a very lively discussion in respect of the fence. It is in response to the proposal to remove and replace the existing Splash Park fence, as advocated by RPPC. Parks Planner Greg Stewart indicates that his design could allow the fence to do different things along its length, that is, to accomplish different functions appropriate to differing adjacent areas of the larger family use area (playground and Splash Park). One of the more important learnings from the whole Rotary Park Planning process has been the realization that there is currently no separation between the playground and off-leash area immediate adjacent (to the west and south of the playground). For the playground, presumably, it would be a low-profile design to provide basic separation of the playground and off-leash areas and prevent future conflict as between those uses. For the Splash Park, it should perform a more exclusionary function, as does the existing ornamental metal fence: protecting this valuable community asset from harm in the off-season and after hours. We have heard clearly and unequivocally from condominium residents living closest to the splash park that preserving the quiet enjoyment of their homes is important to them, and that excluding inappropriate uses of the splash park space is particularly desirable based on past experience with the former wading pool. While it is evident from our exhaustive consultation process that there is support in the community for a lower fence surrounding the splash park, there continue to be stark differences of opinion in respect of the existing ornamental metal fence. We note that a similar splash park constructed at Canmore Park in NW Calgary, funded by the same federal infrastructure dollars as ours in Rotary Park, is surrounded by a spectacularly unattractive chain link fence eight feet in height.

Cost estimates became available in respect of the splash park fence options on June 12, when members of the RPPC, together with Greg Stewart and Dave Robertson, met with our CHCA board of directors. Although it has been established that the existing ornamental metal fence could be disassembled and reused elsewhere, the cost of this fence has been estimated at $60,000, at least a portion of which would be thrown-away costs were it to be removed. Estimated cost for the new dynamic fence is $70,000. The Crescent Heights Community Association has grave concerns as to whether this is a wise and prudent use of further public funds, specifically to dismantle and replace an effective and attractive protective perimeter surrounding an already much loved and highly valued community asset. As of July 31 we have received the results of further consultation in the community, from which we hoped to have the most solid possible consensus on this one outstanding issue in Rotary Park. However, this most recent cycle of community consultation proceeded in the absence of any advice to community members as to the estimated costs of the existing and proposed fence options. This gives us pause.

CHCA strongly supports the proposal for an extended barrier to separate the playground adjacent to the Splash Park (along its south and west edges, adjacent to the off-leash area), and in every respect supports the other elements of the "Pathways Plan" in Rotary Park. We believe, however, than an effective separation for the playground could be integrated with the existing splash park fence at significantly lower additional cost. At the root of our concern is the fear that such additional expenditure could be the end of parks spending in Crescent Heights for some time to come.

As we face our August 5 newsletter deadline for this September issue, plans are in place to meet further with the Rotary Park Planning Committee to reach an accommodation on the fencing question, but we acknowledge that the positions of the respective parties are somewhat polarized. Although we were scolded by City representatives on July 31 for failing to reach an accommodation, I believe that the polarity in our positions is the result of principled but fundamental differences of opinion as to the nature and function of the existing ornamental metal fence. It is clear, too, that many people on one side of the question or the other will be very cross with CHCA, no matter the outcome. Damned if we do; damned if we don't, we will nevertheless press on.

As a measure of the frustration that has been a by-product of this Rotary Park work, David Finch, a key member of the Rotary Park Planning Committee, has decided to discontinue his active participation in the discussion. Similarly, CHCA Parks Director Dave Dearborn has set aside his Parks directorship but, thankfully, will continue as a valued member of our board of directors. What began as a collegial and good-natured effort, with quick resolutions identified for a number of Rotary Park sore points has, as the remaining issues boiled down to this one, become a surprisingly difficult and strained process. It has been enervating for all involved, I believe. We thank everyone involved in the ongoing discussion and everyone who has submitted comments through the various channels made available over the last eight months.

With that difficult Rotary Park business thus updated and accounted for, we can turn to a review of recent events of a happier nature: July 15 saw what I believe to be the 12th annual Crescent Heights Stampede Breakfast go ahead without a hitch. Over the history of our breakfast we have been extremely fortunate with the weather and this year was no exception. With the wonderful Blueswak band and real maple syrup, a great many people took the opportunity to renew their CHCA membership or join us for the first time. Special thanks to Jonathan and Alison Martin, for tending our membership table, and to the Neighbour to Neighbour and Building Safe Communities volunteers for making information resources available to attendees, as well as a wonderful gift basket as a door prize. The breakfast would simply never happen were it not for the many volunteers that help out: thanks to all of you including our CHCA board colleagues. And finally, thanks to Daniel Dang, who took the lead organizing role for this year's breakfast, and also did the lion's share of provisioning for the event.

Word arrives this past week from Casino Advisor Paul Drebit that Crescent Heights' next fund raising

Casino is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, March 20 and 21, 2013. We hope it will be "once more into the cash cage, dear friends" for many of our regular and returning volunteers, and as always it is a unique opportunity to witness the unique world of casino gambling up close, without losing any money in the process. Watch this space for further details as the event approaches, and think about whether you might be able to contribute a volunteer shift at the Cowboys Casino (formerly the Stampede Casino), very handy for us on 12th Avenue SE near Stampede Park.

One of our newest CHCA board colleagues is Kellee Grounds. Her energy and initiative helped CHCA make an application for a round of grant funding that could help fund a new and much improved floor for the main level of the hall. As anyone who has checked out our online availability calendar lately can attest, our hall is a busy place, and the uses and user groups continue to change over time. It all means more wear and tear and a shorter lifecycle for our existing floor. Earlier this year saw weekly Family Yoga sessions on Sundays, and other Dance, Fitness, Tai Chi and active use groups are using our hall on a regular basis. While not yet in a position to install a true athletic floor, Kellee has sourced and costed a more forgiving flooring material better suited to physical activity. With the help of former CHCA director Anne Underwood, a suitable material has been identified and the grant application is percolating its way through the process.

We will soon be facing pressures on our existing distribution arrangements for this noble community organ, The Crescent View. Our east and west side distribution managers will both be retiring this fall and replacement volunteer distribution people are urgently needed. The job, for east and west side distribution chiefs, respectively, is to bundle our total newsletter print run of 2500 copies among roughly each of 25 volunteer carriers, east and west side, once again. Complicating the distribution role is the fact that we continue to lose volunteer carriers, and we are working with our Publisher, Ellis Evans Design Ltd., to look into a hybrid distribution model, involving Canada Post, for certain postal codes, that would give us better penetration into secure multi-unit buildings, and allow us to re-jig our existing volunteer carrier routes. Watch this space to see how we sort out our newsletter delivery challenges over the coming months. And if you thing you might like to pick up a delivery route, as an opportunity to get out of the house and have a stroll in your home community, some choice routes are available.

Finally this month, as is promoted elsewhere in this edition of the newsletter, our third annual Neighbour to Neighbour community event is scheduled for September 30th at St. Vladimir's Cultural Centre on Meredith Road NE. The theme for this year's event is "Connect with the Past, Create the Future." We'll be taking a look at the history of the immediate area around St. Vlad's, the south-south-east corner of Crescent Heights, which has a rather salty history. There will also be an opportunity to see some future development initiatives for the area, including one that may be the beginning of the transformation of this pocket of our community, that is in some respects a kind of rough and tumble area. We hope you can join us for displays, short talks by invited guests, and something good to eat.

That was the summer that was for 2012, as many Crescent Heights residents prepare to go back to school and back to work after their summer break. Please join us at the end of the month of you can for our next N2N event.

Crime Detection Program

Sign up for this Free Vehicle Crime Detection Program with the Calgary Police Service

During the first five months of this year, five vehicles were stolen from our community. This program may thwart the theft of your vehicle and is available to any Albertan. Upon enrollment in the Stop! Thief program, the registered owner receives a sticker to place in the rear window of the vehicle. This indicates that between 1:00 am and 5:00 am, the vehicle is not normally driven. Police could then stop the vehicle & check the drivers license and registration if driven during that time period.

Enrollment can be done on-line at https://www.ama.ab.ca/forms/stop_thief_registration or by visiting an AMA office or any police station. Terms and conditions apply such as removing the sticker if the vehicle is sold.

Message from your Alderman Druh Farrell

Our office receives a number of calls every year regarding disputes between neighbours, on a variety of issues including parking, noise, pets, trees and fences. Before an issue escalates into a major conflict, there are excellent resources available that can help. The Community Mediation Calgary Society is a non-profit organization of professionally trained volunteers that assist community members, associations and non-profit organizations on managing and resolving conflicts. While few people are aware of their services, they are an excellent and accessible tool.

Sometimes the way we communicate can create misunderstanding. Community Mediation Calgary offers workshops on active listening and purposeful speaking, how to run an effective and open meeting, and as well can facilitate conflict assistance meetings to help everyone move forward. Although it is preferable for all parties to participate in the mediation process, in some situations this is not possible. The trained volunteers can provide tools to one party to help them better understand what they can control to change the conversation.

Resolving disputes in a mutually beneficial way can positively impact the enjoyment of your property and more importantly, your general well-being. Community Mediation Calgary coordinators are available at 403-269-2707 or coordinator@mediator.ab.ca.

Canada Day eh?

by Stephanie Ho Lem

What No Parking Sign after 10 pm? They can't stop me, it's Canada Day!

There's Permit Parking Only signs everywhere - forget it there's no place else to park.

If you want to come and see the fireworks, don't think I can save you a parking space in front of my house, you should of seen those eyes when I told them NO Parking here.

Why are there so many cars lined up on our street? Well, they're all trying to go where there's parking not knowing THERE ISN'T ANY SPACE LEFT FOR PARKING.

There's a fire truck trying to come down our street! There's not enough space, there's only one way for the cars to go and that's to turn around but where?

That was sure good pizza, slip the boxes outside your door, no one will see you.

Boy am I thirsty, is there more beer? Make sure you get rid of the empties on the street as it's illegal to have open liquor in the car.

Stop honking! I'm not going anywhere, can't you see no one is moving! Well if we have to sit here, we might as well, whistle or sing or holler. I like that song ... turn it up! LOUDER...

There's a car in our backyard, must of knocked over the recycling bin as garbage is everywhere. What should I do. Why don't you put the recycle stuff in their car!

There's goes the fireworks! That lasted how many minutes? HAPPY CANADA DAY!

Look at the cars lined up now, Centre Street must be blocked!

That truck has been idling in front of the house for a half hour and it's not moving.

Close the windows, the gas fumes are not good for you.

It would have been nice if the City told us how they were going to handle the incoming and outgoing traffic into our community. To tell you the truth, there wasn't a plan, or at least that is what the boys in blue said.

Daddy, I just saw someone pee on our tree.

Back to school safety

Alberta Health Services EMS would like to remind parents and students of some basic road safety tips as streets become busier with the return of the school year. Pedestrians and motorists each have an important role to play- road safety is a shared responsibility.

Motorists

- Avoid talking on cell phones, texting, or any other behavior that diverts your attention away from driving.
- Give right of way to pedestrians who have activated overhead crossing lights or who are waiting to cross from a street corner.
- Remember it is illegal to pass vehicles, other than those that are parked, in school zones or playground zones during posted hours.

Around school buses

- Flashing amber lights mean a bus is slowing down to stop. Motorists should do likewise.
- No matter which direction you are coming from, STOP when approaching a school bus with activated flashing red lights - unless the bus is on the opposite side of a divided highway from you.
- Driver courtesy goes a long way. By simply being alert and cautious when approaching a school bus, you are contributing to school bus safety.

Pedestrians

- Cross only at marked crosswalks or street corners that have clear visibility from all directions.
- Make eye contact with all drivers before crossing the street.
- When activating overhead crossing lights, pause before stepping off the curb to ensure motorists in both directions have come to a complete stop.
- Stay within the crosswalk lines until fully clear of the road way.
- Obey pedestrian lights at intersections. Cross the street only when you see the 'walk' sign and only when all cars have come to a complete stop.
- If you are with young children or pets, hold your child's hand firmly and keep a solid grip on leashes when crossing.
- Remember: children learn by observing you. By teaching them safe crossing habits as early as possible you can reduce the chance your child may be involved in a preventable auto/pedestrian collision.

MEN - DON'T BE A COUCH POTATO!

There is a good dance club where you can meet women. Dancing is good exercise and fun too.

Come dance with us at our Singles Square Dance Club.
The cost is very reasonable.
Beginners classes start
Sept. 10 at 8pm.

Volunteer Recognition

Is there a volunteer in your community who deserves to be recognized?

The Federation of Calgary Communities is excited to announce that we are now accepting nominations for the 2012 Encana Community Volunteer Awards! There are 20,000 volunteers in the community association movement in Calgary. Help us recognize one of them from your community!

You know that volunteer who always steps up to help out without being asked, staying late after an event, or getting up early to flood the ice rink. Or the group of volunteers who come together to complete a big project or event for the community that creates a strong sense of belonging. There's also the volunteer who is so enthusiastic and passionate about where they live that they spark interest among others to also get involved in the community. And for many communities, there is that one volunteer who has been a part of improving neighbourhood life through a lifetime of dedication and service to their community.

No matter the kind of volunteer, there is an award to recognize their time and achievements. Nominate your most deserving community volunteer today and help celebrate Calgary's 20,000 community association volunteers! There are four different awards to choose from when nominating someone:

- The Step Up Award
- The Spark Award
- The Be Part of It Group Award
- The Community Builder Award

Please visit www.calgarycommunities.com for detailed descriptions of the four awards and the nomination form. The deadline to nominate someone for a 2012 Encana Community Volunteer Award is September 15th, 2012.

The winners will be featured in a short video and presented with their award at our Volunteer Recognition celebration in December, 2012. Details to come. If you have any questions, please contact Rebecca Dakin with The Federation at (403)244- 4111 ext. 204 or communityrelations@calgarycommunities.com.

Crescent Heights High School's Olympic Pride and Joy - Akeem Haynes

by Deb Kotlewski

How many high schools can boast that a recent grad has made it to the Olympics? Well, Crescent Heights is able to, and is unbelievably proud of it's 2010 Grad, Akeem Haynes, who is in London and hoping for a spot on the 4X100 men's relay team. He finished fourth at the June Canadian trials in Calgary for the men's 100 M, and had been training with the relay squad in Ottawa and Germany, before heading to London

At Crescent, he made his mark on both the football and track teams, received many outstanding athletic awards, and was rewarded with a full track scholarship to Barton County Community College in Kansas.

His family came from Jamaica to Yellowknife and after 3 years, thankfully to Calgary, where Crescent was privileged to have him as a student who has inspired so many people, both young and old, to pursue their dreams, work hard and never give up. In the July 26 Calgary Sun article about him, he stated that, "I want to make everybody proud - I hope I did."

Fourth fastest 100M in Canada, at age 20, and at the Olympics? You can bet we're proud! Proud to be Canadian, proud to see one of "our own" make it to the Olympics, and proud that one of our Crescent Heights High School grads is making his mark in this world, one race at a time.

Good luck Akeem, we wish you all the best - and we'll be watching and cheering! It is truly a privilege to watch history in the making, and someone we know and love, making history!

Book Review by Judith Umbach

An Equal Music

by Vikram Seth

Music is meant to be heard, and musicians work tirelessly to help us hear what they hear so clearly in their minds. In An Equal Music, Vikram Seth helps us understand the actual creation of music, particularly through the playing of quartets. We experience the alchemy of four people becoming one voice that expresses the musical imagination of long-gone composers.

Thus we meet the characters in a splendid novel of sometimes unbearable suspense and angst. Michael is the protagonist. Music is his life, usually overshadowing his relationships with other musicians, his family and the few friends who comprehend his total absorption. Only the other members of his quartet empathize fully.

Deep love for two drives Michael through An Equal Music. The love similar to that which many of us experience is for Julia, whom he left years ago while suffering from a black mood of depression. She didn't get over him, and he didn't get over her. When she accidentally reappears in his London life, he struggles to again intertwine Julia and music.

His second, perhaps even more overwhelming love is for his Tononi, an eighteenth century violin on loan to him for decades. Through this novel, non-musicians will discover what it means to have a perfect instrument bequeathed by history. Even though Michael expects the loan to be recalled by his benefactor at any time, he cannot conceive of a life in music without the Tononi's beloved touch and tone.

Nevertheless this very concept of loss is forced on him, at the same time as his second loss of Julia destroys his dedication to the quartet. Music does not save all, but this time it does save Michael from his deep anguish.
